NOTABLE ARREST:

Alonzo, Fulton (Aggravated Assault)

SUMMARIZATION OF CRIMES:

AGGRAVATED ASSAULT:

On 11/02/2016 Officers responded to 5100 block of Stanton Ave located in Lawrenceville (10th Ward) for a violent assault. Upon arrival officers observed several witnesses attempting to restrain a male that was punching and kicking a female that was on the ground. Due to the nature of the incident, the actor was ordered on his knees and immediately cuffed and placed in the transport vehicle. The victim stated she lives directly next door to the actor and when she was leaving her home to pick up her child, the actor ran out of his home and started brutally attacking her for no apparent reason. The victim stated she was punched and kicked over 20 times before witnesses intervened. The witnesses stated they observed the female being assaulted by the male and when they tried to stop him, he began attacking them. The witnesses stated the actor was so amped up it took several people to hold him down. The victim stated she believes the actor suffers from a mental illness because he always yells at her to stop listening to him thru the walls. When questioned by Officers, the actor confirmed the story that he attacked the woman because she was listening and watching him thru the walls. The medics arrived and transported the victim to West Penn hospital with a broken jaw, bruises and lacerations on her body. The actor was transported to Allegheny County Jail pending a mental evaluation.

GET STUFFED WITH LOVE

Feed the hungry this Thanksgiving

Join the Rotary Clubs of Bethel-St. Clair and Northern Allegheny, Pittsburgh Police, and Holy Assumption of St. Mary Orthodox Church this Thanksgiving for the annual "Get Stuffed with Love" event.

Help those in need in the community by cooking, assembling, and delivering food to feed the hungry on Thanksgiving Day. This year, we expect to feed approximately 3,500 residents in the City of Pittsburgh.
